Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill?

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill?

Fully Supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response

I believe it is unacceptable for the health, education and wellbeing of women in Scotland to suffer as a result of being unable to afford basic sanitary provisions. These are not an optional extra or a luxury but a basic necessity for women.

Page 8: Universal provision of sanitary products

Q2. Do you think a universal, card-based system (modelled on the c-card system for free condoms) would be an effective means of providing sanitary products for free to those who need them?

Yes

Please explain the reasons for your response

All efforts should be made to ensure system for obtaining sanitary products is as modern, accessible , easy to use and non stigmatising as possible

Q3. Which of the following best expresses your view in relation to a card-based system?

The card should be available to anyone; card-holders should have unlimited access to free sanitary products

Q4. Do you have a view on which locations would be most suitable for dispensing free sanitary products (e.g. GP surgeries, pharmacies, community centres, health clinics)?

No but should be easily accessible for all , discrete and non stigmatising modern approach. Vending machine - operated by card ?

Yes

Please explain the reasons for your response

Humane approach- accessible , non stigmatising , basic human need ie we provide toilet tissue so why not sanitary products ?

Page 12: Personal experience (questions 6 and 7 are for individual respondents only)

Q6. Have you ever struggled to access or afford sanitary products during menstruation? (e.g. financial barriers, unexpected circumstances, health issues)

No

Q7. If sanitary products were available for free, which of the following would apply to you?

I would not expect to claim free products

Please explain the reasons for your response

I can purchase and access sanitary products without any difficulty.

Page 14: Financial implications

Q8. Taking account of both costs and potential savings, what financial impact would you expect the proposed Bill to have on:

	Significant increase in cost	Some increase in cost	Broadly cost-neutral	Some reduction in cost	Significant reduction in cost	Unsure
(a) Government and the public sector (e.g. local authorities, the NHS)		X
(b) Colleges and universities		X
(c) Businesses (including suppliers/retailers of sanitary products)						X
(d) Individuals (including consumers of sanitary products)					X

Please explain the reasons for your response

Initial increase in cost in supplying sanitary products. Longer term gains in increasing educational opportunities and full participation from women previously unable to do so while having periods and not having adequate access to sanitary products. Young women in school are our future workforce and next generation we need them to gain as much value from education and College systems as possible for future economy and overall community gain.

Q9. Are there ways in which the Bill could achieve its aim more cost-effectively (e.g. by reducing costs or increasing savings)?

Large (ethical) companies sponsoring vending machines in schools, colleges and elsewhere ?

Page 16: Equalities

Q10. What overall impact is the proposed Bill likely to have on equality, taking account of the following protected characteristics (under the Equality Act 2010): age, disability, gender re-assignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion and belief, sex, sexual orientation?

Unsure

Q11. In what ways could any negative impact of the proposed Bill on equality be minimised or avoided?

Smart promotion, normalising access to free basic products in same way as we don't stigmatise free provision of toilet tissue , soap etc in bathroom facilities.

Q12. Do you consider that the proposed Bill can be delivered sustainably i.e. without having likely future disproportionate economic, social and/or environmental impacts?

Yes
