

Proposed Sanitary Products (Free Provision) (Scotland) Bill

Page 2: About you

Are you responding as an individual or on behalf of an organisation?

an individual

Which of the following best describes you? (If you are a professional or academic, but not in a subject relevant to the consultation, please choose "Member of the public".)

Professional with experience in a relevant subject

Please select the category which best describes your organisation

No Response

Please choose one of the following; if you choose the first option, please provide your name or the name of your organisation as you wish it to be published.

I am content for this response to be attributed to me or my organisation

Please insert your name or the name of your organisation. If you choose the first option above, this should be the name as you wish it to be published. If you choose the second or third option, a name is still required, but it will not be published.

Joan Weir

Please provide details of a way in which we can contact you if there are queries regarding your response. Email is preferred but you can also provide a postal address or phone number. We will not publish these details.

Page 7: Your views on the proposal

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill?

Fully Supportive

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill?

Please explain the reasons for your response

It seems like a human rights issue that is overdue for action. I was made aware through my work with students from other countries where such an issue is rarely discussed or where this issue was raised because of poverty, in particular Zimbabwe, and Action for Southern Africa (ACTSA)'s campaign for availability of sanitary products. I am a woman fortunate never to have been unable to access sanitary towels when necessary for myself, daughters or granddaughters.

Page 8: Universal provision of sanitary products

Q2. Do you think a universal, card-based system (modelled on the c-card system for free condoms) would be an effective means of providing sanitary products for free to those who need them?

Unsure

Please explain the reasons for your response

I don't know enough about the c-card system, but I think this may be a much wider problem. Every women is likely to have periods.

Q3. Which of the following best expresses your view in relation to a card-based system?

Please explain the reasons for your response.

Undecided but whatever easiest for those in need for whatever reason.

Q4. Do you have a view on which locations would be most suitable for dispensing free sanitary products (e.g. GP surgeries, pharmacies, community centres, health clinics)?

Probably all of these, and also schools.

Page 11: Schools, colleges and universities

Q5. Do you agree that there should be specific obligations on schools, colleges and universities to make sanitary products available for free (via dispensers in toilets)?

Yes

Please explain the reasons for your response

Toilet paper is free, and essential at times.

Page 12: Personal experience (questions 6 and 7 are for individual respondents only)

Q6. Have you ever struggled to access or afford sanitary products during menstruation? (e.g. financial barriers, unexpected circumstances, health issues)

No

Please explain or give an example of your experience if you feel able to do so.

Luckily no, but I can imagine how the indignity if it had happened.

Q7. If sanitary products were available for free, which of the following would apply to you?

I would not expect to claim free products

Please explain the reasons for your response

I was lucky enough to be able to afford and access them.

Page 14: Financial implications

Q8. Taking account of both costs and potential savings, what financial impact would you expect the proposed Bill to have on:

	Significant increase in cost	Some increase in cost	Broadly cost-neutral	Some reduction in cost	Significant reduction in cost	Unsure
(a) Government and the public sector (e.g. local authorities, the NHS)		X
(b) Colleges and universities		X
(c) Businesses (including suppliers/retailers of sanitary products)		X
(d) Individuals (including consumers of sanitary products)					X

Please explain the reasons for your response

I have to assume that the research for the need for this Bill is sound.

Q9. Are there ways in which the Bill could achieve its aim more cost-effectively (e.g. by reducing costs or increasing savings)?

If an effective charity or reliable fundraising through big business could be devised.

Page 16: Equalities

Q10. What overall impact is the proposed Bill likely to have on equality, taking account of the following protected characteristics (under the Equality Act 2010): age, disability, gender re-assignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion and belief, sex, sexual orientation?

Slightly positive

Please explain the reasons for your response

Hopefully positive but difficult to guess, given the variety of responses this could generate, in the current illogical climate of opinion of some groups and individuals.

Q11. In what ways could any negative impact of the proposed Bill on equality be minimised or avoided?

Celebrity endorsement as well as professional.

Page 18: Sustainability

Q12. Do you consider that the proposed Bill can be delivered sustainably i.e. without having likely future disproportionate economic, social and/or environmental impacts?

Yes

Please explain the reasons for your response:

If there's a will, as ever. Environmental impact needs to be solved as soon as possible, ie climate friendly disposable materials used.

Page 19: General

Q13. Do you have any other comments or suggestions on the proposal?

Good wishes, and congratulations on the work already done on this. Just hope the research is sound!