Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill?

Fully Supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response

This is a natural bodily function that you have to live with for many years and to have no money to purchase sanitary products must be an absolutely horrific monthly torture. A very degrading thing to endure so anything to help must be done.

Q2. Do you think a universal, card-based system (modelled on the c-card system for free condoms) would be an effective means of providing sanitary products for free to those who need them?

Unsure

Please explain the reasons for your response

I am unaware of this system, but now I will research it.

Q3. Which of the following best expresses your view in relation to a card-based system?

Please explain the reasons for your response.

I think everyone who should become of need should be able to access this system, you could use the system like a repeat prescription at the doctors.

Q4. Do you have a view on which locations would be most suitable for dispensing free sanitary products (e.g. GP surgeries, pharmacies, community centres, health clinics)?

All above and also homeless shelters, food banks, churches.

Q5. Do you agree that there should be specific obligations on schools, colleges and universities to make sanitary products available for free (via dispensers in toilets)?

Yes

Please explain the reasons for your response

You never know when you may need them and if you have no money you are completely stuck in a very horrible place.

Page 12: Personal experience (questions 6 and 7 are for individual respondents only)

Q6. Have you ever struggled to access or afford sanitary products during menstruation? (e.g. financial barriers, unexpected circumstances, health issues)

No

Q7. If sanitary products were available for free, which of the following would apply to you?

Not applicable: I do not need or use sanitary products

Please explain the reasons for your response

I am of an age where I no longer need these products

Page 14: Financial implications

Q8. Taking account of both costs and potential savings, what financial impact would you expect the proposed Bill to have on:

	Significant increase in cost	Some increase in cost	Broadly cost-neutral	Some reduction in cost	Significant reduction in cost	Unsure
(a) Government and the public sector (e.g. local authorities, the NHS)	X
(b) Colleges and universities	X
(c) Businesses (including suppliers/retailers of sanitary products)		X
(d) Individuals (including consumers of sanitary products)		X

Please explain the reasons for your response

Some one would have to contribute to the funding of the Bill, and education is already struggling to cope with financial pressures.

Q9. Are there ways in which the Bill could achieve its aim more cost-effectively (e.g. by reducing costs or increasing savings)?

Not sure

Q10. What overall impact is the proposed Bill likely to have on equality, taking account of the following protected characteristics (under the Equality Act 2010): age, disability, gender re-assignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion and belief, sex, sexual orientation?

Please explain the reasons for your response

None of the characteristics above should matter, women should be totally supportive of other women and womens basic needs.

Q11. In what ways could any negative impact of the proposed Bill on equality be minimised or avoided?

Q12. Do you consider that the proposed Bill can be delivered sustainably i.e. without having likely future disproportionate economic, social and/or environmental impacts?

Yes

Please explain the reasons for your response:

Women are going to need these products regardless of who supplies them. Companies could introduce more environmentally friendly products.
