Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill?

Fully Supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposed Bill?

Period products are vital - by making people pay for them, they are turned into a luxury product which does not reflect the reality of their usage or the need for them.

Page 8: Universal provision of sanitary products

Q2. Do you think a universal, card-based system (modelled on the c-card system for free condoms) would be an effective means of providing sanitary products for free to those who need them?

Unsure

Q3. Which of the following best expresses your view in relation to a card-based system?

The card should be available to anyone; card-holders should have unlimited access to free sanitary products

Please explain the reasons for your response.

To limit the number of product that may be claimed each month is not possible, as all periods are quite different in their lengths and how much products are needed per month. This cannot always be estimated either, as they may vary.

Q4. Do you have a view on which locations would be most suitable for dispensing free sanitary products (e.g. GP surgeries, pharmacies, community centres, health clinics)?

Where people would not feel threatened to collect them - e.g. GP, pharmacies, as well as schools or Universities students' associations.

Page 11: Schools, colleges and universities

Q5. Do you agree that there should be specific obligations on schools, colleges and universities to make sanitary products available for free (via dispensers in toilets)?

Yes

Please explain the reasons for your response

This may help with the stigma surrounding periods, especially in schools where there might be problematic for some students to ask for or retrieve period products in any other way through, for example, their home.

Page 12: Personal experience (questions 6 and 7 are for individual respondents only)

Q6. Have you ever struggled to access or afford sanitary products during menstruation? (e.g. financial barriers, unexpected circumstances, health issues)

Yes, occasionally

Please explain or give an example of your experience if you feel able to do so.

It is sometimes a struggle to have to spend the amount of money I do on period products, especially when that money could have been used for food - instead there will be weeks when the period products have to be prioritized. Furthermore, with health issues, it is oftentimes difficult to even get to the store and buy them.

Q7. If sanitary products were available for free, which of the following would apply to you?

I would expect to claim free products occasionally

Page 14: Financial implications

Q8. Taking account of both costs and potential savings, what financial impact would you expect the proposed Bill to have on:

	Significant increase in cost	Some increase in cost	Broadly cost-neutral	Some reduction in cost	Significant reduction in cost	Unsure
(a) Government and the public sector (e.g. local authorities, the NHS)			X
(b) Colleges and universities			X
(c) Businesses (including suppliers/retailers of sanitary products)		X
(d) Individuals (including consumers of sanitary products)					X

Q9. Are there ways in which the Bill could achieve its aim more cost-effectively (e.g. by reducing costs or increasing savings)?

No Response
